(Rewrite) [+2] Write the contrapositive of the following statement: For any $a, b \in \mathbb{R}$, if $a > b$, then there is $\epsilon > 0$ for which $a > b + \epsilon$.